“ I knew Curtis while we were both stationed on Hickam Air Force base on Oahu, Hawaii. Probably were there together about 15- 18 months. That was a long time ago, but I remember Curtis as friendly, soft-spoken, and level-headed, far more mature than most of the rest of us in the barracks . Of all the GIs I knew at that time in the service, I only remember both the name and hometown of one, Curtis. Guess that says something really positive about him. royce randlett jr living in Maine.
