Dayna, today is your birthday and like everyone else here I miss you. I talked to my kids about you today and it was happy and sad as all good things are. We knew each other for such a short period of time and yet we would always talk about how much we have in common. Love you ladybug and will keep remembering you until we all meet again. -butterfly

John Riggs MD - March 25, 2024 at 10:28 AM

“ While in residency and private practice early in my OBGYN career, Dayna always had encouraging words and sound advice. She was a listening ear when I was ready to give up. So thankful for her sisterhood. The gates of heaven were open to this angel long before she transitioned home. She will truly be missed.

Nellie S Crawford, MD (ET Fall 00) - March 24, 2024 at 02:13 PM

“ Praying God's healing blessings over Dayna's loved ones especially her mother. Over these coming days I also pray your strength in the Lord. I didn't have the opportunity of meeting Dayna but she was obviously loved, loved, loved!

My deepest condolences to Lethia !!!! I share memories when she her mom @ 12 years old!!! Now to loose a daughter!!!! Father have mercy give my childhood friend the comfort and she needs it's seems so unfair for a person as sweet as Lethia to endure so much pain!! But God don't make mistakes. Sending love ❤️ and hugs ☐

“ I have never met Dayna personally (although I heard about her). I knew some of her siblings and their mother when I was a student at UNT. Dayna's mother helped me a lot when I was there. She was one of the people who made graduating from college a possibility for me. My heart goes out to Dayna's family.

“ I have no words at the sadness felt in regards to losing Dayna. I worked with her during her residency (I was a nurse at LBJ) and just fell in love with her heart. I told her "whenever I have babies, you will be my doctor," and that's just what happened. After almost 6yrs of infertility, I finally got pregnant with my twins and I called her right up and told her "it's time!" She was an amazing person to work with professionally and personally and she safely brought my baby girl/boy into this world 12yrs ago. I am sad she is no longer here in the physical but she will always hold a special place in my heart. I love you girlie, may you rest in peace.

“ Dayna was my chief and my friend at LBJ during our OB/GYN residency. I admired her work ethic, her commitment to patient care and the loving support that she provided to her residents. Dayna was so full of joy, love and laughter. I only have memories of her beautiful smile, her incomparable sense of humor and the fun that we had dancing in our lounge for midnight dance breaks or wherever and whenever good music was in the air. Dayna was an angel to me then and always will be. This hurts so much, but I will continue to pray that she is at peace. I miss you, Dayna.

“ As her line sister, XU classmate, friend, and fellow OB-Gyn I will miss Dayna deeply. There were 74 of us on line and Dayna was a bridge between us all. She knew the who, what, when, and where for each of us and was thus in her perfect role as Sisterly Relations Co-chair. Even after we all graduated, she unofficially served in that capacity. She was the music coordinator for our step team and returned to that role with no notice when we stepped for our 20 year line reunion. We could always count on her in a pinch. Dayna sponsored a tent at most XU Homecomings, welcoming any and everyone to party with her. She was an AMAZING physician dedicated to her craft but mostly her patients. My heart cries out for our Waterlily, but my soul is at peace remembering the full life she lived.
